

Access to an affordable channel will keep thousands of small business viable today and hopefully in the future. Millions of retiring baby-boomers will be using the internet to supplement their incomes, find and use affordable services and in general maintain an informed and useful quality of life. This wholesale provisioning stimulates competition and benefits millions of consumers.

Chairman Powell: Please do not sell out to BIG BUSINESS, at the expense of competition and the small businesses of our country.